Dear Parents and Carers

What a busy week we have had in school! We have had another fantastic celebration assembly this morning where we were able to celebrate the achievement of so many of our children. A huge well done to everyone who won a CPS superstar certificate and a golden ticket - you are all superstars!

This week, Purple 1 and Green 1 visited the woodland skills centre. The children had the opportunity to use drills and hammers to create a range of wonderful woodland items. They finished each day with roasted marshmallows around the fire; all of the children did a great job of representing our school and we are looking forward to sending the other classes soon.

Thank you to everyone who attended the sharing learning sessions this week. It has been lovely to see so many parents come into school and see what the children have been learning. Next week, we will send out more information about sharing learning sessions after half term for further opportunities to celebrate your child's learning.

We hope you and your family have a wonderful weekend

Mrs Loss and Mr Fugill

The Grand Hotel of Feelings
by Lidia Branković

Cotton Cloud Refuses to Rain
by Elizabeth F. Hill

This gentle book explores feelings. Feelings check in to the hotel and the hotelier, who is also the book's narrator, explains that none are ever turned away, even if they are a little difficult. There's Sadness, depicted in watery blues, flooding his room and sometimes the room below. Anger was once allocated a small room, far away from the other guests lest she disturb them but it was soon realised that Anger should not be silenced: she needed to be given space and acknowledgement; be allowed to make noise. A perfect book to help children understand and articulate how they are feeling.

Cotton Cloud does not behave in the way that a cloud ought. All of the other clouds can teach her a thing or two: making shapes in the sky is Puffy Cumulus' special talent; Cirrus trained Cotton to flick her wispy tail as she pranced across the sky but there is one cloud she never wants to be like: Nimbostratus. He rains and creates gloom. Nobody likes the gloom... but then when the earth becomes parched due to Cotton's unwillingness to rain, the world becomes sad and worried. Will she do the right thing? Will Cotton realise her part in the water cycle and its effect on the eco-system?
